

Extraordinary Details of How Rich Young Men Are Ensnared and Ruined; See the SUNDAY WORLD.

"I AM A VICTIM," SAYS DOHERTY.

The Disgraced Man Considering Plans for Future Action.

HOW ABOUT "JIMMY" MARTIN

Broken for Accepting Mrs.
Thurrow's Bond.

POLICE FORCE IN A TURMOIL

Indictments Expected, Commission

ers Fighting to Save Themselves, Sensations Looked for.

President Martin and Commissioner John C. Sheehan are certainly not as happy this morning over the diamonds from the police force of Capt. Michael...

Several very unpleasant things happened near the close of the trial—this is, unpleasant for Messrs. Martin and Sheehan. The most important of these was the admission wrung from Captain Doherty himself that he had been interfered with in the performance of his duties by the Police Commissioners.

Capt. Doherty testified that he had reported to Police Commissioner Martin that Mrs. Thaw had been in the habit of giving "straw" ball for women who were arrested from her house, and that the woman was afterwards allowed to continue the practice while developing when the Lexow Committee commenced its examination into it, that Capt. Doherty received orders from the Police Commissioner.

The admission made by Capt. Dolan on the stand goes a long way, too, in substantiation of the claim made by friends of Supt. Byrnes that he (the Superintendent) was hindered in his efforts to stamp out vice by orders issued over his head by the Police Commissioners and the precinct commanders.

President Martin, when asked to-day if Capt. Doherty had asked him to transfer two of his sergeants, who had accepted the bond of Mrs. Thurow, said: "The story is absolutely false. I never asked me to transfer any of his sergeants. There is not a word of truth in it, and it is nothing more than the act of a drowning man catching at straw."

Kerwin Tells the Reason.

When Commissioner Kerwin arrived at headquarters he said to an "Evening World" reporter:

"The charge upon which Capt. Doherty was really dismissed from the force was that he had accepted Mrs. Thurow's bondswoman for the girls in her house and she was not a woman of means."

The officer on the charge that

"The evidence on the charge that I had accepted bribe money was considered very weak, but, of course, there was considerable corroboration. "I fully believe in the justness of the decision, and that every one of the men was a disgrace to the police force of New York. "Every single rule of the Police Department was openly violated by these men. I should have known that they were doing so, and I should have known that they were doing so, and I should have known that they were doing so."

I suppose there will be an appeal to the General Term, and cannot say whether our action will be sustained there or not. We did not go according to the rules of court in taking evidence, but acted in accordance with the rules of the Police Department."

Commissioner Kerwin was pointed out the statement made under oath by Capt. Doherty yesterday, concerning his complaint yesterday, stating that he was not a member of the Police Bull

Martin Had No Right.

Gen. Kerwin replied: "Technical speaking, I suppose Commissioner Martin had no right to receive that report but that only shows in itself how the Department rules have been violated."

Capt. Doherty said he was supposed to make a written report to his Superintendent and did not do so.

"I am sorry," he said, "but I can't say verbally that I came to me as a witness."

When asked if any other capital would be placed on trial, the Commissioner said: "I put that in, Captain. It is as put on trial, on account of charity made against him before it Lexow Committee. It is also a fact the evidence was given reflecting on other."

"I suppose they will be given an opportunity in the same manner as Capt. Doherty to vindicate themselves. But my part I do not care where the trial falls. This thing has been swirling and I think the root of the evil has been got out and the Department purified. There is no such thing as friendship official life."

"I'm a Victim."

Ex-Police Capt. Doherty remained his house, as Lexington, Mass., on morning. He said the consultation was some of his immediate friends, but refused to see any reporters.

He sent down this statement by wife to an "Evening World" reporter: "A fearful mistake has been made, and I'm the victim of it. The time has not yet come for me to speak, nor do I know what steps will be taken until I have consulted with my counsel."

Mrs. Doherty feels the disgrace keenly. "It is all very sad," she said. "I am not in a position to act in the matter."

they did," St. said. "The blow that has just fallen on Capt. Doherty is felt by his whole family. Of course, he will ad-